Well-Backed Horses Won at Benning Yesterday.

ACCIDENTS MARKED DAY'S RACING

Knight of Rhodes and Carbuncle Carry Off Starting Machine.

SPORTS IN GENERAL

The racing yesterday at the Benning track was of a very good quality, and, in addition, three accidents furnished enough excitement to keep the onlookers excited throughout the day. The big feature in the accident line came at the start of the fifth race. Only four horses went to the post, and the job of getting them off looked like an easy thing for Starter Cassidy. But the contrary was the rule. With the exception of Carbuncle every horse took turns jumpng at the starting machine or turning about and refusing to face the right way. At three different times a majority of the horses made jumps toward the barrier, as if to anticipate the word from the starter, and each time they were called back. On the fourth line-up Mr. Cassidy shouted the glad words, but his attendants were a little slow in releasing the barrier, and as a result the horses became entangled in the Cochran, on Handcuff, was the first to get clear of the debris, and, like the clever rider he is, decided to take every advantage of his lucky opportunity. Like a shot he carried his horse through the bunch, and Thime, on Tanis, was the second to get

All this time little Wonderly, on Carbuncle, and Burns, on Knight of Rhodes, were working hard to disentangle themselves of the tape, and as they worked Cochran was taking Handcuff around the first turn like It was not until the back stretch was reached that Carbuncle was finally cleared of the tape, and, as he was fully thirty yards back of Handcuff, his chances of getting up in front seemed gone. But Won-derly worked with patience and great cleverness, with the result that by the time the horses were coming into the stretch Carbuncle had caught the leader, and from then on got in front, and won with day-light between him and Handcuff.

Around the first turn and up the back stretch Tommy Burns was doing the circus act of riding with one hand, while using the other to get clear of the tenacious tape. There were yards and yards of the stuff, and by the most diligent work Knight of Rhodes was not clear of the tape until he turned into the stretch. It was then too late to get within halling distance of the winner, and he had to be content with third place. But for the mishap the race would have been a two-horse affair, and doubtless furnished great sport for the on-

After the race a couple hundred disap-pointed backers of The Knight gathered around the judges' stand, but it took very little deliberation on the part of referees o declare the race all right.
While the horses were at the post in the first race Jockey Brown received a severe kick from Very Light, and, as a result, he had to dismount from Roysterer, Monahan being substituted. It was thought at first that Brown's leg was broken, but he got off with a severe bruise. Jockey Cochran Thrown. In the sixth race Oudenarde, ridden by H. Cochran, stumbled at the instant the barrier went up and threw his rider over his head. How Handicapper and Red Path got over Cochran's body without tramping on him is a mystery to the onlookers from the grand stand, but the little fellow was quickly on his feet unscathed and only a little shaken up. The accident doubtless had a bad effect on Burns, as he was slow getting up with the bunch and then faded in the stretch. Potente was by all odds the best horse in the race and was in a class by himself, carrying the top weight and winning almost in a canter. brisk, clear weather acted as an incentive for the racegoers, and, as a result, the big grand stand was fairly well filled with ladies and their escorts, while the club house gathering was almost equal to that of the opening day. The wind had taken almost all the moisture out of the track left from Tuesday's rain, and the go-

"Books" Hit Hard.

The news given out last night that the bookmakers have been hard hit ever since the meeting opened came as a big surprise to the regular attendants at the track. Yesterday was the first day that the favorites have scored anything like a respectable showing, but if the reports are to be be-lieved the wagers placed on the second choice horses far overshadowed the money sent in on the ponies picked to win by the public. David Gideon and his followers are reported to have been unusually successful, and John McCafferty has worked his winnings away up into the thousands. Another good card is on for today, and the handicapper has done his work so well that the winning horses will be hard to

Louisville is the storm center in a possiimportant secret conference is now being held, but it can be stated that indications point to a fight between these two bodies.

The Western Jockey Club will hold its annual meeting in Chicago on January 14, and it had invited representatives of the turf congress to be present on that day to try to settle the differences between these two racing bodies. Capt. C. A. Tilles of St.

Louis will represent the turf congress at that meeting. Capt. Tilles will ask for certain concessions from the jockey club, and if they shall not be granted the turf congress will continue to hold its meetings as heretofore and will pay no attention to the Chicago body or its rulings.

the Chicago body or its rulings.

The concessions which will be asked are that all horsemen, owners, jockeys, trainers and horses, as well as all others connected with the American Turf Congress, be put in good standing, that there be an equitable distribution of racing dates and that where racing associations have plants in close proximity to each other they shall decide on their dates themselves, each looking at the matter from a business standpoint, rivals as a matter of fact, and agreeing among themselves to which dates each shall have. It was stated that as a peace offering the Western Jockey Club had offered the turf congress people a vacancy in the board of stewards.

It is alleged that the Western Jockey

Club has already agreed to all the demands concerning reinstatement of turf congress horses, owners, jockeys, etc., and that the whole question hinges on the dispensation
